

8994 – LUPO CHAIR

The shell-shaped backrest of the LUPO 8994 recliner gives the term comfort a new meaning.

The design is based on the anatomy of the body and thus creates a natural and pleasant sitting sensation, while the relax function provides additional relaxation. The headrest can be conveniently adjusted manually or electrically to adopt a comfortable position for reading or watching TV.

Customize your piece of furniture according to your preferences: The LUPO comfort armchair, which can be rotated 360 degrees, offers you a wide range of options. You can choose between a manually adjustable or electric armchair. If you choose the electric armchair, you can adjust the back-, leg- and headrest separately. The three-motor model comes with either electric lift & rise or the circulation friendly heart balance function model is ideal for you. A single or dual-motor stand-up aid is also available to provide valuable support for everyday life.

The maxi versions with an extra-long backrest and correspondingly long leg rest are a particular ergonomic highlight. Relax and treat yourself to the optional heating and massage function. The simple plug-in connection makes power supply from the rechargeable battery convenient. Choose between three different seat firmnesses Superlastic soft or med.
